From conversations with our farmers as their doings, hopes and expectations, we find that a much larger breadth of land has been seeded to wheat this fall than for any number of years past. A noticeable fact attracts the remark of all, that the wheat has been put in the ground in a superior manner; our farmers at last recognizing the fact that a little more labor in preparing the ground and manner of planting is likely to remunerate them when the harvest comes.—McMinnville New Era.

Miraculous Escape from a Cave.

The Knoxville Press and Herald, of the 26th ult., says:

James Williams, who lives eight miles from Knoxville, in company with two other men, was out hunting on Thursday night last. Williams, who had an ax on his shoulder and was in advance of the other two men, passing through a field, stepped into a hole or cave and disappeared.

The party with him approached the cave and hallaced, but got no response. They went to a neighbor's house and learned that the depth of the cave had never been ascertained. They at once got bed cords and tied them together, fastening a rock to one end and letting it down in the hole to the depth of 120 feet. Williams was alive, and tied the rope around his body and legs and was hauled or pulled from the awful chasm by six men who had come to his assistance. He is still living, but with little hope of recovery. These are facts, but look fabulous.

The Gubernatorial Succession.

The rather small showing which Judge Patterson made before the Legislature last week for the office of Secretary of State, it is thought has seriously damaged his prospects for the nomination for Governor. The impression among the knowing ones at Nashville now is that the contest will be between Col. Stokes and Mr. Senter; and the friends of the former are said to be confident that he will win. But Col. Stokes' nomination for Governor will not by any means secure the nomination of Mr. Gale, of Hamilton, to Congress. That gentleman's recent silly attempt to unceremoniously thrust the whole Legislature out of doors, at the most inclement season of the year, too, has ruined his political prospects for ever, and it is doubtful whether he could even be re-elected to the chair he now occupies in the Senate chamber of the State. Meanwhile, contrary to the first impression, Stokes' chances for the Gubernatorial nomination are in the ascending mode again. We make this statement on high Radical authority.—Athens (Tenn.) Post, Nov. 27.

State of Tennessee vs. Wm. H. Ballew and others:

This suit, instituted several years ago, was against the President, Cashier and Directors of the Branch Bank of Tennessee, Athens, to recover assets alleged to have been removed South during the late war. The case came up before Chancellor Trewhitt at the May term, 1868, when the Clerk and Master was ordered to take an account of the entire business and affairs of the bank as bearing upon the suit, to report at the present term. We learn that both parties excepted, but that the account taken by the Clerk and Master was confirmed in every respect. The judgment of the court is in favor of the State, and against said President, Directors and Cashier for the sum of $10,840. The defendants are adjudged to pay the costs. Both parties pray an appeal, but it is believed that neither will take the case up.

A shock of an earthquake was experienced at this place on Monday last, at about 3 o'clock p.m. It was not a very heavy thump, but sufficient to attract the attention of parties in-doors, and some persons on the street say they felt the movement, which appeared to be from west to east.—*Athens (Tenn.) The Tennessee Ex-Confederate Soldiers' Association.

The above is the heading of a circular which has been laid on our table, with the request that we will give it such notice as the importance of the organization may seem to us to be worthy.

The circular is signed by a number of names, some of whom are among our acquaintances, the object being to form an association of those who are wearing artificial limbs made by Mr. James W. Morton, of Nashville. From the circular it appears that for the sum of (36 25) six dollars and twenty-five cents per member, Mr. Morton agrees to do all the repairing that may be needed on their artificial limbs for the twelve months, giving them the material at cost and carriage, as shown per bill of lading, thus saving to each from one to three hundred per cent. in the expense of keeping up the repairs on their limbs.

We are glad to learn that such a movement is on foot, for it will result in great benefit to those men who were so unfortunate as to lose limbs in the late war.

Mr. Morton has been in our city for several years, and is too well known as a skillful workman and prompt, reliable business man, to need any praise from us. He is most highly recommended in the circular by a card from the officers of the Benevolent Society, of Tennessee, ladies whose names and worth have become household words in this and other Southern States, associated as they have been, and still are, with acts of love and deeds of charity toward the suffering soldier, widow and orphan of our land.

We hope that this Association may be organized, and become a permanent institution in Nashville; and trust that those who feel an interest in the enterprise will aid the gentlemen who have put the movement on foot.

Any communication addressed either to Mr. James W. Morton, Secretary, or to W. H. Chappell, Treasurer, Postoffice Box, Nashville, Tenn., will receive prompt reply; and any information given to those wishing to become members, or to aid in the organization of the society by contributing for the benefit of any who may not be able to avail themselves of the advantages offered by the circular.—Nashville Banner of Sunday.

The Attorney-General Who Wanted a Ku-Klux Scalp.

We learn that a body of Ku-Klux made their appearance in Gainesboro, Jackson county, a few days since, under the following circumstance: Circuit Court was in session in Gainesboro at the time of their appearance. The Attorney-General, a Mr. Robinson, was present, and in a boasting way remarked that he would give fifty dollars reward for the scalp of a Ku-Klux. This bluffrality on the part of Mr. Robinson, by some means, reached the land where the Ku-Klux dwelleth, and straight-way some forty of them sped to the land wherein Mr. Robinson plays Attorney-General. They called at his room, requesting his presence; but Mr. Robinson, on seeing the cut of his visitors, concluded that he didn't want no hair—nor scalp, and asked to be excused from making his appearance. The Ku-Klux were inexorable, however, and insisted that he should accompany them, assuring him that no harm to him was meditated, and that he should not be taken off bodily. Mr. Robinson finally consented to accompany them; they started with him to the courthouse, the scene of his liberal offer for a scalp. Arriving at the courthouse, the spokesman of the Ku-Klux, in an unearthly, hollow voice, informed the Attorney-General that they had come only to offer him forty heads instead of one; the forty bowed their strange heads to the valiant Attorney-General, and departed as quietly as they came. No violence or indignity was exercised toward any one during their brief stay.

The sequel of this visit of the Ku Klux in Jackson shows that their visit was only a matter of sport, caused by the unnecessary remark of the Attorney-General. It would be far better that no such demonstrations were made even in sport; and it would be equally well that such offers as Mr. Robinson's were left unuttered.—McMinnville New Era.

Col. Bob Withers Shot and Killed at Hendersonville.

Intelligence reached the city yesterday of a fatal affray which took place at Hendersonville, about 2 p.m., between Mr. Sam. Doxey and Col. Bob. Withers, in which the latter was shot and almost instantly killed. The particulars, as we heard them, were as follows:

Col. Withers, who is a farmer, had engaged a freight car, which was to have been at the depot last Friday for a load of his corn. It is stated that he did not have the corn in at the time agreed upon and that the car was therefore appropriated to cotton and sent off. The friends of Mr. Doxey charge that Col. Withers became very much incensed at this, and used some abusive language towards the former's brother, who is the Depot Agent at Hendersonville. Yesterday afternoon Col. W. drove to the depot about the hour mentioned above, when Mr. Doxey at once demanded whether he had used the language imputed to him. Col. W. replied to the effect that he would tell nothing. Mr. Doxey retorted: "You are a d—d liar." Col. W. immediately seized him by the coat collar, but before he could it flict any damage upon his antagonist, the latter drew a revolver and fired three times in rapid succession. Two of the shots took effect, one in Col, Withers' groin and the other in his arm. The former wound bled inwardly and terminated fatally in about five minutes. As Mr. Doxey was firing the third and last shot, the dying man exclaimed, "Don't shoot again; you have killed me already, and I am unarmed." The remains of the deceased were subsequently taken charge of by his friends.

It is hardly necessary to state that the unfortunate affair is most deeply regretted in the neighborhood where it occurred. Col. Withers was in the Confederate service throughout the war, and made a most gallant record. He was Lieut.-Colonel of Carter's regimenrt at the time of the surrender. Mr. Doxey also stood well in the community in which he lived. No animosity had previously existed between the parties as far as we could learn.—Nashville Banner of Sunday.

Seven Disguised Men Stop a Train Near Decatur Junction.

Just as the train from Nashville had reached the junction of the Nashville and Decatur and Memphis and Charleston Railroads, Friday night, seven disguised men jumped aboard, pulled the bell-rope and brought the train to a halt. They first entered the the baggage car, when one of them presented a cocked pistol at the baggage master and asked him if his name was Russ. He replied that it was not. They then ordered the fireman, Conductor Crozier and a negro to follow them to the rear of the train, where a conference was held, the exact nature of which our informant did not learn. It is known, however, that they suggested to Conductor Crozier that it "would not be healthy for him to run down that way any more." After taking his pistol from him, emptying the barrels and returning the weapon, they vanished with the darkness. Their object did not seem to be to molest any body on the train, as, when they passed through the cars they did not speak a word nor indulge in any kind of demonstration. Why they should have thus warned Mr. Crozier is a mystery to us, as he is a remarkably quiet, inoffensive official, who, so far from obtruding on others his sentiments, politics1 or otherwise, strictly keeps his own counsel. It looks very much as if interested parties attempted to frighten him from the country for the purpose of obtaining the position he now holds.—Nashville Banner.

Lincoln.

The company of Federal soldiers who have been camped at this place for the past two months, struck tents and departed for Texas on last Monday morning. Officers and men expressed regret at leaving Fayetteville. There never was a town or people, they said, that had been more maliciously and causelessly villified than this. They were ordered here to preserve the peace, and would be glad to remain, but really there was no more necessity for a garrison here than there is in Massachusetts. They gave the citizens the character of a quiet, orderly, sociable, law-abiding people, who would do what was right, and harm no one, if treated as they should be. Company H has the best wishes of this community.—Fayetteville Observer.

Cracksmen in Pulaski.

Our Pulaski neighbors have had a visit from the night prowlers who made Nashville their stopping place for several weeks past. The Citizen of yesterday says that during the past week, Pulaski has been visited by a party of scientific burglars, who for a night or two plied their vocation quite vigorously. They entered the family room of Mr. A. L. Crow, and taking his pants from under his pillow, extracted all the small bills from the pockets, and left without disturbing any one. Mr. Wm. Alexander, at Wm. G. Lewis' detected one of them in the act of crawling into his window, but kindly advised the gentleman to let the window down and retire, which he was considerate enough to do. A big dog drove one of them away from Mr. Robert Scoggin's window before he had succeeded in effecting an entrance, and just in time to preserve a sound skull. At Mr. Aymett's they were a little more successful. They entered his private room through a window, and took from his pocket between $125 and $135. Numerous other burglaries were attempted, but as a general thing our citizens are too watchful for them.—Nashville Union and American of Sunday.

A Notorious Horse Thief Hung by Citizens.

We have received the particulars of a tragic affair which happened at Pulaski, last Friday morning:

A few nights since a party of men, who had organized themselves into a vigilance committee for the purpose of protecting themselves and neighbors from horse thieves, who had been committing a great many depredations in the eastern part of the county, succeeded in capturing a notorious murderer and horse thief named Jack Barnes. He had made his escape several times from the officers of the law after he had been arrested.

The party who last captured Barnes lodged him in jail at Pulaski for trial. Friday morning between one and two o'clock, a band of sixty or seventy men in disguise forced their way into the jail and took him away. A few hours later he was found stiff and cold, hanging to a tree about four miles east of Pulaski, near the Fayetteville road.

Barnes is represented as having been a terror to the peaceable citizens of Giles county for many months past. He killed one or two men during his career of crime, and had stolen an almost incredible number of horses. While it is to be regretted that the law was not permitted to take its course, his tragic death has relieved the community in which he operated of the apprehensions under which he caused them to labor.—Nashville Banner.

Williamson.

Our farmers have great cause to be thankful for the result of this year's operations. Crops of all kinds are abundant and the labor system in a very improved condition. Considerable better feelings exists between the employers and employees. We rejoice in this fact, and think that with a vigorous and effectual organization kept up we can wipe out all the infernal teachings of the men who have heretofore poisoned our colored voters against us.—Franklin Tennessee.

A Negro Falls Between Two Cars and is Crushed to Death.

Henry Edwards, an employee on the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, was run over last Friday and killed. He was on the wood train down on the Northwestern road, and in stepping from one car to the other, slipped and fell. The accident occurred about thirty-two miles from the city. He was cut all to pieces. His remains were brought to the city where his relatives live. The train had been taking on wood and was returning when the accident happened.—Nashville Union and American of Sunday.

The Pulaski Cotton Trade.

The Pulaski Citizen, of Friday, says: There is little cotton shipped from this point by the planters, all of it being rapidly sold here to home buyers at better prices than can be obtained elsewhere.

NEW YORK.

Vigilance Committee Predicted for the Metropolis.

From the New York Herald:

In view of the prevailing corruptions in high places and low places, municipal, State and national, one of our law and order citizens, in a matter-of-fact review of the subject, says that "what we are coming to, and it is only a matter of time, is simply this—no more, no less—the absolute necessity of forming a vigilance committee. Law! There is no law. Appeal to the general Government! The heads of the departments are a pack of scoundrels. Resort to the United States Courts! The Judges would laugh at you." Such are the opinions of a "plain spoken man." But where are we to find his vigilance committee? Shall we go to the state prison for it, and thus set the small sixpenny rogues who have been caught to bring up by justice the big millionaire rogues, who know how to slip through the meshes of the law? At all events, we are bound to have a change one of these fine days, and it may come through the rough ordeal of a vigilance committee; and the masses of our tax payers are fast ripening to that idea of any thing for a change.

FUNERAL OF A ROUGH.

Scenes Incident to the Burial of Larkin.

A dispatch from New York of the 28th says:

The funeral of Felix Larkin, the notorious sporting man and ward politician, was attended, this afternoon, by about ten thousand persons, including thieves, local politicians, roughs, shoulder-hitters, blacklegs and courtesans. The streets in the vicinity of his saloon were completely blocked up, and a large force of policemen was necessary to preserve order. Many of the rowdies there were drunk and disposed to fight. The Irish present wailed loud and long, and the whole scene was a strange blending of absurdity and grief. O'Baldwin was present, and was expecting arrest immediately after the funeral, as his bondsman's death made him liable to a process of law. The hearse was drawn by four horses, each one covered with heavy mourning cloth, deeply fringed, and over the vehicle there were heavy black plumes. After the coffin was deposited on the pavement the pall-bearers took hold of it and moved it further up the street, the crowd making a rush for it that nearly upset the corpse. Larkin was wealthy, and in spite of occasional ruffianism, was very popular with his class. Such excitement has not been known here since Bill Poole's funeral. It is said that the coroner's jury to-morrow will be packed with Larkin's friends, who are extremely violent against Campbell.

CONSOLIDATION.

The Annual Election of Officers for the Railroad.

From the Knoxville Press and Herald.]

The annual convention of the stockholders of the East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad, which met in this city on Thursday for the election of officers, was very largely attended. The following were elected Directors:

J. Jacques, Virginia; P. Dickinson, A. G. Jackson, C. M. McGhee, Knox county; J. R. Branner, W. Galbreath, Dr. Burnett, Jefferson county; W. C. Kyle, Hawkins county; J. H. Earnest, Greene county; G. W. Nelson, G. Telford, Dr. W. R Sevier, Jno. White, Washington county; J. R. Anderson, Sullivan county, and T. H. Callaway, Bradley county.

The Directors met yesterday and elected Col. Thomas H. Callaway, President, and Maj. R. C. Jackson, Superintendent. This amounts to a virtual consolidation of the two roads between Chattanooga and Bristol, and it was the intention of the stockholders in the election of the new Board of Directors, that such should be the case. President Callaway is one of the ablest financiers in the country, and there are few better railroad men than Major Jackson. Together they make a team which is hard to beat.

We have no knowledge of the future management of the roads, but it is reasonable to anticipate that under the new regime the great Southern mail and freight line will increase in popularity with the business and traveling community.

KNOXVILLE AND KENTUCKY RAILROAD.

Mineral Resources on the Line of the Road.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., November 20, 1868.

Gen. Joseph A. Mabry, President Knoxville and Kentucky Railroad Company:

Dear Sir: The undersigned, natives of Wales, having been engaged for many years in the manufacture of iron, both in our native country and Pennsylvania, and other portions of this country, during which time we have had charge of extensive iron works, have just returned from a trip over the line of the Knoxville and Kentucky Railroad, made for the purpose of examining the mineral resources of that section of East Tennessee.

We have traced a very valuable vein of fossiliforous iron ore of excellent quality, extending for over two miles in the immediate vicinity of said railroad, from Ross's, in Anderson county, to Wheeler's, in Campbell county, crossing the railroad twice, and for the entire distance, so near is it, as to give every advantage for the establishment of iron works.

This vein is cut by the tunnel at Indian Grave Gap, at which point the solid ore measures four feet in thickness, nearly, if not quite, equal in value to the celebrated ore of Lake Superior, and yielding, in our estimation, from sixty to seventy per cent. of iron.

In the immediate vicinity of said ore, we also find four remarkable beds of coal, of excellent quality, varying from two to four feet in thickness.

The result of this examination convinces us that the advantages offered for the manufacture of iron ore on the line of said railroad, for the section examined by us, extending from thirty to forty miles from the city of Knoxville, are superior to those of any point in Pennsylvania; that the iron can be made at less cost and of excellent quality, and that the quantity of both iron and coal is practically inexhaustible, being sufficient to supply a number of heavy blast furnaces for generations.

Very respectfully,
DAVID RICHARDS,
J. M. JONES.

COTTON.

The Foreign Cotton Competition

From the N. Y. Daily Bulletin.]

The efforts of the government and capitalists of England to extend the area of cotton cultivation in other countries, beside the United States, shows no abatement of energy and enterprise. In every part of the globe where cotton can be raised English capital and brains stimulate its culture, and supply as far as can be all the deficiencies arising from the peculiar situation of the soil and the cultivators. To emancipate themselves from dependence upon American cotton is an object to which English manufacturers attach a high degree of importance. Upon the success of these efforts they regard the question of the monopoly of the cotton supply as dependent, and to prevent the restoration of the former supremacy of the United States in the production of the great staple, they spare no expense or trouble. The immense political influence of the government promotes the efforts of private individuals, and English officials and consular agents in every part of the world to carry out the designs of the Manchester Cotton Supply Association.

The latest information relative to the culture of cotton in other countries besides the United States during the year 1868, are reassuring. A company has been formed in Melbourne for the cultivation of cotton and sugar in the Feejee Islands, the soil and climate of which are said to be favorable for the growth of these products. In the cotton province of San Paulo, Brazil, the product has increased from 7027 arrobas in 1864 5, to 600,000 arrobas in 1867-8. For the year 1868 69 a yield of no less than 900,000 arrobas is anticipated. The British consular agents in the United States of Columbia report that notwithstanding the admirable capabilities of soil and climate, no cotton is grown in the interior, owing to the indolence of the natives, and also owing to the unsettled political condition of the country. But from the consular district of Madalena a small supply will be obtained. The cotton tree is indigeneus and perennial in this region, and offers almost boundless returns. When the crop is picked, the tree is cut down, and sprouts up again for next season. The tree bears cotton for twenty years. With a settled form of government offering security to labor and capital, it is estimated that immense returns could be procured from this region.

From India the exports for 1867-8 show a decrease of 56 000 bales as compared with the season last year. This falling off is attributed partly to the early setting in of the rainy season in the Central Provinces, and partly to large supplies sent to the Northwestern provinces and to Bengal for native consumption. The area cultivated is larger, however, than last year, and it is anticipated that later accounts may show an undiminished supply for exportation later in the season. Lord Mayo, the new Governor-General of India, in response to a committee of the Cotton Supply Association, promised to promote and extend the cultivation of Cotton in India, and facilitate its speedy conveyance to Great Britain.

Americans have a ill too deep an interest in their great staple to be indifferent to the efforts that are in progress to stimulate competition with it by the various cotton producing countries in the world. That these efforts are to a large degree successful, and that they promise no less important results in the future than in the past is only too apparent. But the contrast between the action of government and capitalists of England and those of the United States are not favorable to the American character. If we are ever to recover our former cotton ascendancy it will manifestly be through individual enterprise exercised irrespective of co operative or government aid. This course, perhaps, may be more in accordance with the prevailing type of American character, but it is certain that wise statesmanship demands at least the removal of all impediment to the culture of cotton in the Southern States.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, DEC. 2, 1868

SALE OF TENNESSEE RAILROADS.

The "ring" that a few weeks since made a "dead set" on the Legislature, and then well nigh accomplished their purpose of purchasing certain Tennessee railroads at their own price, having been driven from their purpose by the clamors of the press, have again made their appearance, and are urging upon the Legislature the necessity, where none exists, for an early sale of these roads. We hear now from Nashville of a proposition to put them up to the highest bidder—a process that, while it carries the conviction of seeming fairness in the interest of the State, would most certainly of all others be just the one by which the "ring" would secure the roads and force the State still to carry the purse. We are opposed to this scheme. There is too much hurry about it. It smacks of the purposes of the "ring," and is the very reverse of the action that should characterize the Legislature.

The proposition of Mr. SINGLETERRY, on Friday last, calling for reports as to their condition from all the railroads endangered, strikes us as more in the interests of the people and the State. When the Legislature is thoroughly informed as to the workings of the defaulting roads, it may perhaps be found that their failure to pay accruing interest on their bonds, lay in the fact of their mismanagement by State officials, rather than from any dereliction on the part of the owners, who, as in the case of the Northwestern, have never had an opportunity of testing the capacity for earnings of their roads. Not one step, looking to the sale of any of our railroads, should be taken until the reports called for have been received and laid before the public. Let us have all the facts, and if, after a patient and careful investigation it is found necessary to sell, let such sales be contingent only upon the refundment to the State of all her outlay, principal and interest. Nothing less than this will do.

INVITING CAPITAL.

There is a proposition now before the Legislature for the encouragement of capital to Tennessee that we hope will receive the consent of all the members of that body and become a law. The bill under consideration provides for the exemption from tax of all capital embarked in manufactures, for a term of years. Nothing could more timely offer than this. We learn from gentlemen from Middle Tennessee that recently quite a number of capitalists from the North have been prospecting in that and the eastern division of the State with a view to the location of manufacturing establisments of various kinds, and they only await the favorable action of the Legislature upon this bill, when they will at once initiate these necessary aids to the development of our resources and the permanent prosperity of the State.

Yesterday we published a paragraph from the Bolivar Bulletin, to the effect that persons of influence and capital in that town were about to embark in a large cotton factory, and from Brownsville we learn that a similar project is talked of there. Under the stimulus of the exemption from taxation provided for in the bill above alluded to, we anticipate a movement towards a cotton factory, or perhaps two, in this immediate vicinity. The figures and facts afforded by the annual report of the Augusta (Ga.) cotton factory, published by us a few days ago, have attracted attention, and more than one expression, from moneyed men, favorable to such an enterprise in Memphis, has reached us. We trust the rust of procrastination will not be permitted to wholly eat away these good intentions, but that practical men in our midst will carry them forward to a consummation, or call in the aid of foreign capital to develop enterprises so remunerative.

THE PROJECT OF THE MISSISSIPPI CENTRAL RAILROAD.

The project of the Mississippi Central Railroad will be taken up by the Board of Mayor and Aldermen at their meeting this evening, it having been made the special order of the day. Although but little time has been permitted the people to canvass and discuss the subject, enough has been elicited from them to prove their hostility to the prayer of the memorialists whose paper we gave to our readers on Sunday. We find many propositions in substitution for that proposed by the interested parties, but all who have written or spoken concerning it, unite in demanding that nothing definite shall be done by the Board without first securing the sanction of our citizens, and at least taking such guarantees from the proposed purchasers of the stock as will prevent such a contingency as that Memphis, instead of being in the line of a grand trunk, will be but a way station for a branch road that shall always be tributary to the Central Railroad, it may be, to be finished at last by way of Jackson to Paducah.

It will be remembered, that recently it has been determined to complete the New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern, of which the Central Railroad is but a continuation, over to Decatur, thus shortening the distance to the North from New Orleans by something over one hundred and fifty miles, as compared with the present and other proposed routes. If this purpose should be carried out, it is not at all likely that the contemplated through route by the Mississippi and Tennessee and the Mississippi River Railroad would be more than a connecting link with the great West, and useful mainly for local traffic. But this is but one of many considerations that press upon the Board in this matter. There is another railroad—the Memphis and Ohio—particularly interested in this purchase and transfer of the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad. Perhaps, if it becomes necessary to sell the city's interest in the latter, the Ohio Road would like to become the purchaser, and at a price more remunerative than has yet been suggested. The citizens of Brownsville are about to survey and put under construction a branch road to Dyersburg, which will connect with the Paducah Road, and accomplish nearly all we hope from the Mississippi River Road to Memphis. With this branch and a proper connection of the Ohio with the Tennessee Railroad, and the continuation of the latter over to Meridian, Miss., would we not be quite as well off as by the proposed Central connection—would we not be so much better off as that we would have a through line to Mobile as well as New Orleans, and save the $250,000 stock, and the $300,000 asked, to enable the gigantic corporation to do not quite the same thing? This is well worthy the careful consideration of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, to whom the city looks for the most close scrutiny of the questions involved, and whom she will hold to a strict accountability for the discharge of the duties devolving upon them in this matter.

TO THE BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

The people of Memphis—a majority of the tax-payers—are opposed to the sale or transfer of the city's interest in the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad to any parties, under any pretense. They say, and say truly, that if the proposed purchasers or beneficiaries can with the $250,000 stock the city now owns in the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad and a subsidy of $300,000 to build the Mississippi River Railroad to Trenton or Union City, make money, they cannot see why the same results cannot be reached by these parties simply using the city's credit and stock as a partner in the scheme. Members of the Board must be careful as to what they do in this matter. The eyes of the tax-payers are upon them. They must remember it is the people's money they are to vote upon. It is an important trust. Specious pleas should not have force with them. The vote to be voted upon belongs to the city—is part of her assets, and may be made more valuable than it is in other ways than giving it away, or selling it for a song to men who would not take it as a gift if they did not see future profit in it—nay, very "big money." What they can accomplish the city with others can accomplish, and save this $550,000.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, December 1.—In the Erie case, yesterday, before Judge Nelson, a number of affidavits were read. The argument of one of the counsel for vacation of the order of Judge Blatchford, appointing Jay Gould Receiver, was heard. The case will be resumed this morning and concluded, the court intimating to counsel that the session would be prolonged to enable them to get through with their argument.

A suit in the name of the people, on the complaint of the Attorney-General, was commenced yesterday in the Albany courts against the Erie Company, asking that the directors be removed. An order was granted by Judge Peckham, suspending the Board pending the hearing of the motion for absolute removal next Monday.

A Guyamas letter gives details of the great storm in Sonora, about the 5th of October. The United States steamer Lackawanna, lying in a very safe harbor, had to get up steam to keep from going ashore. The town of Haurta, in Lower California, was destroyed. The mining works on the Jagui river were swept off. A waterspout burst over the city of Alamas, destroying it completely. Seventy dead bodies had been picked up.

The Tribune of to-day proposes an amendment to the constitution, that the right of suffrage shall be extended to all male citizens twenty-one years of age, and foreigners who have resided in this country one year.

The charter election is progressing with but little enthusiasm. A very light vote will be polled as the election is considered a mere matter of form, and that Mr. Hall will be Mayor and Mr. O'Gorman Corporation Counsel. Several persons have been arrested for illegal voting.

The gold sale of $300,000 to-day was made at 35 3-100 and 35 10-100.

It is stated that Mr. Metcalf, the counsel in the Erie case, on Monday, or shortly afterwidnighton Sunday night, served a notice on Mr. Fisk as he was leaving for Jersey, on the Ferry boat, forbidding him to leave the State, but Fisk and his party embarked on the boat, but shortly afterwards returned to the Erie office. Metcalf then concluded that the order would be obeyed and left. At 2 o'clock Fisk, C. A. Seward, Judge Potter and others, left and took the train at Jersey City. Judge Davis, their Receiver, was notified at 4 o'clock that Fisk, Gould and others, had left for Canada, having taken some $8,000,000 in money, and some $60,000,000 in stocks. It is now said that they have returned and are in this vicinity, and that neither Fisk nor Gould had left, but that one of the Directors left on a special train early Monday morning, to sign a contract between the Erie and Lackawana Companies, looking to a consolidation.

It is stated that a suit has been commenced against the leader of the recent movement in St. Paul stock.

The Herald this morning says editorially: "We learn from the best attainable authority that Gen. Grant is emphatically in favor of so amending the Constitution as to limit the President therein to one term, and to make universal suffrage, or give the right of suffrage to male citizens of all races and colors above the age of twenty-one years, the supreme law of the land. And next, with regard to universal suffrage, we suspect that the Constitutional Amendment (At. XIV), which provides that the several States may regulate suffrage, each for itself, but in representation shall be restricted, is not considered a settlement by Government, but a rule, apt to result in endless trouble from the conflicting plans likely to be adopted among the States, and hence no doubt Gen. Grant has concluded an amendment making universal manhood suffrage the supreme law of the land, in all the States and Territories, as the only decision of this otherwise embarrassing question.

The Herald' Washington special says Senator Sumner recently, in a conversation with a Herald correspondent, expressed himself determined to take a stand in Congress for the immediate resumption of specie payments. Nothing more, he thinks, need be done with the reconstruction laws, as Gen. Grant will enforce them. With Reverdy Johnson, he said, he was utterly disgusted, and

Yesterday afternoon a box containing certificates and bank notes amounting to $90,000, was stolen from the Pequonnack Bank, at Bridgeport, Conn. The box was inside of the vault of the Bank. No trace has been found of the missing property.

Horace Greeley delivered a lecture last evening in the Abyssinian Baptist Church about the condition and the relations of the negro in this country. Mr. Speiman, jr., was in the Chair. The principal topic was to impress upon his audience the absolute necessity of being more self-dependent; as it was, they, with all men, were too willing to have others to provide and see after them. He advised strongly the principal of co-operation.

A special from Washington to the Philadelphia Press says that the latest developments regarding the negotiations of Minister Johnson relating to the Alabama claims, warrants the statement that Mr. Seward, in behalf our government, has insisted on amendments virtually as follows: First, a distinct understanding must be had that the agreement on the part of Great Britain to submit the claims of the two countries to the arbitrament of a Claim Commission, is accepted by this Government as an acknowledgement that the recognition of the Southern Rebellious Goverament as a belligerent power was a violation of the neutrality laws by England herself. This is not to be insisted on as an article in the treaty, when it is finally perfected, but it will most assuredly form a distinct and permanent feature in the preliminary correspondence.

Second. That all claims against citizens of this Government, which have been decided in our favor by the courts of England, shall be excluded from the consideration of the Commission. It is quite probable that the claims against the United States, which can only be adjudicated by American courts, will not be included in the exclusion. Such an arrangement as this can be effected without violation of either American or English precedent. It is believed that these two points were suggested, as the result of the first Cabinet meeting which occurred since the Johnson-Stanley protocol has been received; and that these will be followed by other and more significant points, to be agreed upon at the Cabinet meeting to-morrow. In fact, it is feared that the final agreement between the two Governments will be delayed until after the new Parliament convenes, and then, as a matter of course, it will be further delayed until the organization of the new Ministry, which may not possibly occur until Mr. Seward's time of office is about expiring, so the whole question will be bequeathed to Gen. Grant's administration, when new men will take it up on both sides, and it may be one, two, or even three years before it is finally settled. In this connection it will be remembered that the United States cannot reckon upon the entire good will of John Bright and his followers, as it was stated in a dispatch of Mr. Seward in 1867, that Mr. Bright disapproved of the position taken by the latter towards England, and nothing indicates that he has changed his mind since.

According to the Observator, of Matamoras, of November 13, Gens. Escobedo and Cortena had arrived at Victoria, in Tamaulipas. One thousand men had been sent after Brantes Vergos, who is reported to have a force of six hundred men at St. Croix. The Brownsville story of Gen. Escobedo's defeat at Almitoo is not mentioned in the Matamoros papers to November 20.

BOSTON.

BOSTON, December 1.—Mayor Shurtliff has received the following, dated Washington, November 29th:

"Dear Sir: Your dispatch, inviting me to the hospitalities of Boston, was duly received. I cannot say by what train I will reach Boston. I fully appreciate your kindness, however, and that of the citizens of your city, in extending the hospitalities they have, but would ask to be excused from any and all public demonstrations. I have received an invitation to the St. James, to-day, during my visit, where I will be happy to receive such citizens as may call. With great respect, your obedient servant,

"U. S. GRANT."

Alvin Flanders, the delegate to Congress from Washington Terrritory, who was arrested at Charlestown on the 1st ult., by the Sheriff, on a writ in favor of one Roberts, of San Francisco, involving a claim for $3000, appeared in the Supreme Court yesterday with a petition for a writ of habeas corpus, demanding to be discharged, as being a delegate to Congress he was exempt from arrest in a civil suit. Judge Foster decided that the petitioner was entitled to be discharged and ordered his release.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, December 1.—The Dyer Court of Inquiry was engaged during the whole of yesterday in the examination of Maj. T. S. Lordley, of the Ordnance corps, who was examined at length by Mr. Arrick, for the prosecution, to show the history of the various projectiles proposed to, or adopted by, the Government, the witness being the compiler of the ordnance manual and a prominent officer of his corps. The clerk of the Joint Committee on Ordnance, Mr. E. T. Smalley, who had been directed by the court to produce various letters and other documents which had been put in possession of the committee during its investigation, replied in writing, declining to furnish the papers.

Secretary Schofield will leave here to-morrow evening to be present at the experimental firing at Fort Delaware next Thursday.

The public debt statement for November will, from present indications, show an increase of probably $10,000,000, though it is not uncertain that returns which have not yet been received at the Department will materially lessen this estimate. The disbursements for the past month, excepting the large amount on account of the Alaska purchase, were comparatively small. The amount of coin now on hand, including certificates, is about $90,000,000. During the month there were issued to the Pacific Railroad of California, United States Bonds to the amount of $1,280,000, and to the Union Pacific, Bonds to the amount of $640,000.

Commissioner Rollins returned to Washington this morning.

The majority of the annual reports of Government officials, with the various accompanying documents, are still at the office of the Public Printer. Some of them have not been entirely completed, and portions only have been sent to the printer, while many of the Government officers have received proof copies of their reports and are now engaged in revising and connecting them. It is probable that by Saturday nearly all the reports, including that of the Secretary of the Treasury and President's Message, will be completed and in the hands of their authors. It is expected that the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, in addition to his preliminary report to the Secretary of the Interior, which has been already published, will make another in relation to the affairs of the Bureau and its operations among the Indian tribes, during the past year, which will be sent directly to Congress.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, December 1.—The first race over the Metairie course to-day was for a purse of $300, mile heats, free for all. It was won by Joe Johnston in two heats, beating Jack Gamble, jr., and Larkin, the horses holding the same position both heats. Time, 1:52½, 1:54½.

The second race was for a purse of $600, two mile heats, resulting as follows: Fannie Cheatham, 1 2 1; Transit, 2 1 3; Carrie Atherton, 4 3 2; Little Mack, 3, distanced; Bismarck 5, distanced. Time, 3:54, 3:52, 4:00. The track was good, but not fast. Larkin was not in good condition, though the favorite in the first race by two to one, while Fannie Cheatham sold at the same rate in the second.

Owing to informality of printing the name of Hoffman, one of the Republican electors, the Secretary of State has refused to certify his election, thus giving the Democrats an elector. The matter will be submitted to the Supreme Court. Some two million dollars stakes depend on the decision—the Democrats claiming the bets drawn unless the electoral vote is unanimous for Grant and Colfax.

ART.—There is as much art in a neatly fitting and new style elegant made hat as in anything that painter can draw or modeler design. We were reminded of this by an examination, yesterday, of the stock of Leidy & Co., 289 Main street, where we found four different varieties, now the prevalent styles at the centers of fashion. They include the "Alpine," introduced here by this firm, the "Acme" and the "Bulge." They are selling rapidly, and are especially attractive to persons of taste in the city and adjoining towns, who desire to be considered neat and patrons of the latest styles. We advise our friends to call and examine Leidy & Co.'s stock. They will find it as complete and elegant as any New York can afford.

CITY COUNCIL.

Regular Monthly Meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen.

Reports of City Officials.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen met yesterday evening for the regular monthly transaction of business. A quorum being present, Alderman Swayne took the chair and called the Board to order at three o'clock.

The Secretary announced that the minutes of preceding meetings now unread ran back over two months, and had reached over two hundred pages, and should be read.

On motion of Alderman Passmore, the Secretary was instructed to read them, which he accordingly proceeded to do, the reading occupying two and a half hours.

J. L. Chandler, Tax-Collector on privileges, reports $15,881 23 collected during the month.

Robert Goode, Wharfmaster, reports $5504 83 collected during the month.

Dr. G. B. Thornton, the physician in charge of City Hospital, reports: Patients remaining in Hospital last report, 79; admitted during month, 66; treated during month, 145; discharged, 51; died, 16; remaining in Hospital November 30th, 79. Two of the patients reported as having died during the month were brought to the Hospital dead. Amount received from pay wards during the month and turned over to City Treasurer, $38 75.

J. H. Cash, City Inspector, reports $105 received from weighing coal, $101 from sundries; total $206, during the month.

James H. Bowen, City Tax-Collector, reports the collections of his office during the month at $100,597 36.

The City Attorney, R. J. Morgan, Esq., reported on several petitions for reduction of assessments. He also called the attention of the Board to the difficulty in the matter of pavement in front and rear of the Exchange Building, and requested some definite instruction in regard to what to do with the lessees of the property who refuse to have the pavement repaired.

All of which were received and concurred in, with the exception of the report of the City Attorney, which, on motion of Alderman McDavitt, was referred to the Committee on Claims.

REPORTS OF STANDING COMMITTEES.

Alderman O'Donnel, of Improvement Committee, reported in favor of the petition of Mrs. Gaylor and Mr. Caskin, on the petition of T. H. Duffin & Co., in regard the Water Works on the Bluff. The Committee reported favorably. Received and adopted.

Alderman Passmore, of Committee on Accounts, reported favorably on the various rolls of city officers, salaries, etc., also several individual bills and accounts. Report received and adopted

Alderman McDavitt, of Committee on Finance, reported adversely on petition of Edmonds, Pettigrew & Co., in regard to grading Bluffs; the Committee further recommend that there be no further outlay of public funds for any purpose of improvement, except for keeping the streets in a passable condition. Report received and adopted.

Alderman Johnson, of the Committee on Ordinances, moved that the ordinance in regard to the imposing of a tax of $250 on all those selling meat in quantities of a quarter of beef or more be enforced. Motion carried.

Alderman Holst, of the Fire Department, reported in favor of a couple of petitions for permission to build wooden sheds. Received and adopted.

Alderman Lemon, of the Market Committee, reported in favor of petition of Mrs. Mary E. Flood and the Marketmaster of North Market.

PETITIONS.

Alderman Goodlett presented petition from M. Gavin to be allowed to finish frame kitchen already commenced, and moved that the prayer be granted. Carried and prayer granted.

Alderman Glancy presented a petition from J. L. Chandler, Tax Collector on privileges, who represented that at the time that the tax on privileges was transferred to the Police Commissioners, his predecessor obtained a percentage on the market collections, and he prays that he be allowed the same or a similar percentage on market collections. Referred to the Committee on Claims.

Alderman O'Donnel, by permission, offered a petition from the firemen praying an increase of pay from $65 to $80. They cited the pay of firemen in Nashville, Louisville and Chicago. The prayer was signed by all the members and officers of the four companies. Alderman O'Donnel moved its adoption, which motion was seconded.

Alderman McDavitt opposed the increase, and said that he could not financier for any such legislation, and begged the Board not to increase the salary, at least at present, and to wait until the end of the year.

Considerable discussion was elicited by the remarks of Alderman McDavitt, participated in by Alderman O'Donnel, Mageveney, McDavitt, Glancy, and Renner, during which there was some pretty sharp sparring between Aldermen Mageveney and Glancy. It was finally proposed to refer the whole matter to the Finance Committee by Alderman Renner, which on a division was lost. The question then recurred on the original motion to grant the prayer of the petitioners, and on the ayes and noes being called, the motion was adopted.

A petition from Mr. Schabell, in regard to the bayou, was referred to the Improvement Committee.

Alderman Ruffin presented a petition from Messrs. A. H. Douglas, Picket, Thorpe, and Dr. Irwin, representing a charitable Order, who request the use of the room over the engine house, on the corner of Second and Adams street, for the use of a meeting room for the Order for the coming twelve months, with the privilege of a further twelve months.

Alderman Ruffin moved that the prayer be granted.

Col. Douglas being present, was allowed to explain the object of the institution making the request.

Alderman Holst moved the petition be referred to the Fire Committee and the Mayor. Referred.

The petition of Bronson Bayliss and B. C. Bethell was referred to the City Engineer.

On motion, the Board adjourned till this evening at three o'clock.

THE OTHER SIDE OF THE QUESTION.

The Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Memphis:

The undersigned, who is a citizen of Memphis, and who, though a small taxpayer, feels as much interested in her prosperity as any one of the ten gentlemen whose names are signed to the memorial addressed to you through the city papers of yesterday, desires, on behalf of himself and several thousand other citizens of Memphis, to earnestly protest against any such action as that indicated in the memorial to you, the sale or giving away of the city's interest in the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad, and the granting of additional aid to the amount of $200,000 to the same road, and the granting of some very important franchises to this Company.

It was to be hoped that after the expense of this city in the sale of its stock in the Memphis and Charleston Railroad some years ago that no other applicants would have any hope of success in a like enterprise. Now what is it these gentlemen ask?

They ask you to sell or give away $250,000 worth of stock belonging to the citizens of this heavily taxed city to some parties not named, and then to grant them the use of $800,000 more in city bonds, which you will, of course, be called on to sell or give away to the company, or some public-spirited parties at some time hereafter. And why are you to do this? Simply because the road is heavily in debt and is not now paying; but, if granted this gift of $550,000 by the city, will be taken by some gentlemen who will make it pay them, run it straight through your city, and make some important connections for the trade of Memphis.

Now let us put a similar case: We have here in Memphis a Street Railway. Every one will admit that it is badly managed, and that it does not pay, and is probably in debt, but if placed in other hands, with capital to improve it, would no doubt pay and be of great benefit to the public. Now will the gentlemen stockholders in this road sell very cheap, or give their stock away, and lend my energetic friend Mr. Smith $100,000 of time bonds and let him run this road? This is a pertinent question, as some of the signers of this memorial who ask you to dispose of the city's interest in the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad are large stockholders in the Memphis Street railway. If they will do this they will simply be doing for themselves what they ask you to do for the people of Memphis.

Another case. We know of a line of steamboats on the Mississippi river, which have been well managed, managed with economy and prudence by practical men. It does not pay. If their debts were paid, and the city would loan them $250,000, they would succeed in business, add largely to the trade and prosperity of the city, and make the stockholders rich, and they would be able to compete with St. Louis. Yet the Board of Aldermen is not likely to give this aid.

Another. We know of a splendid hotel building in Memphis now vacant, vacant because it did not pay. If one of the owners will give Mr. Smith his interest in the house, and loan him $150,000 with an implied understanding that it is never to be paid, Mr. Smith will take the house, run a first class hotel, in a good business, and add greatly to the prosperity of Memphis.

Are these not cases in point? The citizens of Memphis own $250,000 of this road. True, it does not now pay. True, it is in debt. Granted, that if out of debt, and run with new and other connections it would pay, and would add to the material prosperity of Memphis. But as the tax payers of Memphis have the money to pay, and somebody else gets the benefit of it, and gets rich, why not let some party who is more able to lend the money do it, and let the city retain her interest in the road? Why give it away and then incur further debt?

Besides, we would like to have the names of the parties to whom it is desired this stock shall be given. Why do they want it? Simply to benefit Memphis? Is it not to make money for themselves? If this be so, and they can make money with this aid, and add so much to the prosperity of Memphis, why not let the city keep her stock, and loan the $300,000, and go partner in the operation, and in this way perhaps we may lessen our taxes.

The whole matter, as presented in this memorial, smacks of speculation, and heaven knows we have suffered enough in this way. We certainly have a right to a vote on the question of whether or not we are to give away half a million of dollars, and still bear our present burdens of taxation. Let not this important matter be settled by memorials, but give the people a chance to speak at the polls, and they will so overwhelmingly defeat the proposition that it will not be likely to be heard of again.

SMALL TAX PAYER.

THE PROPOSITION BEFORE THE BOARD.

MEMPHIS, December 1, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

I am a poor man, a small property-holder, one of "the thousand" whose rights in all great transactions are utterly ignored. I come to you as the representative of the people, and I appeal to you to oppose the proposition of the "monopolists," whose paper you published on Sunday morning. The property of the city in any of our railroads must not be given away. It must be preserved to us. I ask the Board of Aldermen, therefore, to submit the question to a vote of the tax-payers of the city. Yours for "the thousand" left out in the cold.

OLD MEMPHIAN.

THE CITY'S RAILROAD STOCKS.

MEMPHIS, December 1, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Whilst I favor all railroad projects, and might be made to see the propriety of throwing away a few hundred miles of road now doing all the business it is capable of doing, would it not be well if the city wishes to sell its stock in that road, to offer said stock to the highest bidder. Probably other roads would be willing to purchase this stock, and thereby control at least that much interest in the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad in favor of the real interests of Memphis. I do not wish to aid in the enrichment of a few individuals at the expense of the property and railroad interests of the city. The Board of Aldermen must put this question to the vote of the people.

Yours, TAX PAYER.

NEW FIRM.—It will be seen by reference to another column that Messrs. Powhattan Robinson and W. S. Moon have formed a copartnership as Surveyors and Civil Engineers. They are both practical, and in their profession, have no superiors in the Southwest. Capt. Robinson is well known from his connection with the South Side, Richmond and Danville, Norfolk and New Haven, New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern Railroad. During the war he served as Chief Engineer on the staffs of Generals Ewell, Johnston and Van Dorn. Billy Moon is one of our cleverest as well as most energetic citizens. We wish the new firm all success and feel assured that all business entrusted to to them will be promptly and faithfully executed.

THE LATE JUDGE HARRIS.

Meeting of the Bar of Memphis.

Resolutions in Honor of his Memory.

In accordance with the adjournment of the Bar meeting held at the U. S. Court room on Friday last, the members of the Memphis Bar re-assembled at the Law Court room at 9½ o'clock on Tuesday morning, December 1, 1868. The Hon. H. G. Smith resumed the chair, and called the meeting to order.

The Committee appointed to prepare resolutions expressive of the sense of the Bar touching the loss sustained in the death of the Hon. Wm. L. Harris, reported through J. W. Clapp, Esq., the following, which were, on motion to that effect, unanimously adopted:

The death of the Hon. Wm. L. Harris, which occurred at his residence in this city, on the evening of the 26th ult., in the 61st year of his age, may justly be regarded not only as a great loss to the profession, but as a public calamity. His removal to this city, and his connection with the Memphis bar, is of comparatively recent date, but he did not come among us as a stranger. In the State of Mississippi, from whence he came to this city, his name and his fame were familiar as household words, and our knowledge of his reputation had long preceded his arrival amongst us, and prepared us to appreciate his merits.

It was known to us that he had in that State, to which he removed from the State of Georgia, followed the practice of the law for many years with distinguished success, occupying a place in the front rank of the bar of Mississippi which included some of the ablest lawyers of the Southwest; that he had been called by the public voice to the Circuit bench, which he continued to fill with an ability and a reputation second to no one in the State who occupied a similar position, until he was elevated to the bench of the Supreme Court of the State, the duties of which dignified and responsible station he continued to discharge in a manner that reflected honor upon himself and the judiciary of the State, until, from the result of political events, he felt that he could not consistently with his sense of propriety occupy the position longer, when he resigned and removed to this city for the purpose of engaging again in the practice of his profession.

Some of us have known him intimately for many years, and can testify to the exalted character he bore in all the relations of life. In the social and domestic circle no man was more deservedly esteemed and beloved. Possessing a high order of intellect—a mind cultivated and disciplined—manners polished and affable—a thorough knowledge of his profession—and adding to these qualities habits of untiring industry and energy, laborious research, unfaltering integrity and firmness of purpose, blended with unusual kindness and gentleness of heart, he was alike eminent as the lawyer and the judge—honored and respected as the magistrate and the man; and it is a source of infinite satisfaction and comfort to know that above and beyond all the high mental and moral characteristics we have but justly attributed to him, he attained "the highest style of man," and died the happy and triumphant death of the Christian.

We conclude this brief and imperfect tribute to his memory with the remark, that the death of such a man at any time is not only a great social and domestic bereavement, but swells to the proportions of a public sorrow; therefore,

Resolved, That in the death of our brother Hon. WM. L. HARRIS, one of the brightest lights of the bar has been extinguished, and society has lost one of its most useful members.

Resolved, That we tender to the family and relatives of the deceased the assurance of our sincerest condolence and sympathy.

Resolved, That the Chairman of this meeting appoint members of the bar to present a copy of these proceedings to the United States, Chancery, and Common Law Courts of this city, and to request that they be entered upon the minutes of said courts respectively.

Resolved, That a copy of said proceedings be transmitted by the Secretary of this meeting to the family of the deceased, and that the various city papers be requested to publish the same.

On motion the Chair appointed the following gentlemen to present copies of the resolutions to the Courts of the city, with request that they be spread upon the minutes thereof: J. W. Clapp, Esq., was appointed to present them to the United States Court; James Phelan, Esq., to the Law Court, and Hon. Henry T. Ellett, to the Chancery Court.

On motion the meeting then adjourned sine die.

Phamphlets Received.

We have received the November number of The Little Chief, a boy's and girl's magazine, a welcome monthly visitor to the school room and house circle.

The second number of the Phonographic Magazine has come to hand. It is a publication that fills a void long felt by newspaper reporters and others who have occasion to use phonography, and we predict a great success for it.

We have received the November number of the Proof Sheet, issued by Collins & McLeester, type founders, Philadelphia. It is a treat to look at it, after turning over forty or fifty country exchanges with their blurred and worn out types.

The Little Corporal is the name of a very neat and interesting magazine for children and old folks with young hearts, published at Chicago, Ills., by Alfred L. Sewell. It only costs a dollar a year and every family should take a copy.

THERE IS NO instance on record where a man who advertised liberally failed of success.

PERSONAL.

D. A. Brower, Esq., City Editor of the Avalanche, returned yesterday from Nashville.

John Hogshead, Esq., of the Panola Star, is in the city, stopping at the Worsham House.

Col. Charles Cameron, Representative elect from the First District of Arkansas, to Congress, arrived in town yesterday. He informs us that his majority over Col. Rootes, his opponent, is at least twenty-five hundred. This is indeed good news.

We were pleased to meet in our editorial rooms, yesterday, Gen. R. D. Lilley, of Staunton, Va., who is traveling in the interests of Gen. Lee's school—the Washington College, of Lexington, Va. The General is stopping at the Overton, where he will remain probably a week. It is needless for us to suggest to parents who have sons to educate, the opportunity that is offered by Col. Lilley's visit.

We received a visit yesterday from Lyman Gill, Esq., at present editor and proprietor of the Jacksonport (Ark.) Herald, and formerly attache of the APPEAL. Mr. Gill has numerous friends who will be glad to know of his arrival in the city.

FINE OYSTERS.—The finest oysters we have ever seen in Memphis were received yesterday evening by D. Aste & Co., corner of Union and Main streets. They were plump, fat, and more solid than any Norfolk oysters which have been brought to Memphis this season. The shells even were different, being smoother and whiter than any we have seen. Those fond of oysters will be well repaid by calling on Messrs. Aste & Co. Finer oysters have not been brought to Memphis this season.

THE COURTS.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT AND CIRCUIT COURT—Hon. Connelly F. Trigg, presiding.—Judgment by default was rendered in the following cases in this Court yesterday: No. 853, Carpenter et al. vs. Wm. L. Norman; No. 804, Tribune, Davis & Co. vs. Raffio, Finney & Co.; No. 801, Craft & Kortrecht vs. Ed. Downing. Also, in the following cases on the District Court docket: The United States vs. information furnished by D. S. Brown; cases Nos. 240, 241, 245, 248 and 282.

The case of the United States vs. J. E. Green set for the 9th of December.

In the case of Hoagland vs. Edmonds, Pettigrew & Co., defendants, by their attorney, M. L. Perkins, Esq., filed a demurrer to plaintiff's declaration, raising the question as to whether an informer can maintain action of debt in his own name for money, the proceeds of property forfeited to the United States, by acts in violation of the internal revenue law, where there had been no information filed and no forfeiture declared by any Court. His honor Judge Trigg decided that such action could be maintained, and overruled the demurrer.

The case of E. S. Long vs. Wm. Raines was then taken up. The evidence was given on Monday; yesterday the argument was heard. An attempt was made to get the court to charge the jury from the fact that they both being rebels, and consequently co conspirators against the United States Government, they together had entered into a compact for an unlawful purpose; in that agreement they gave mutual consent to take each other's property, and therefore one party could not enter a suit of trespass against another. His Honor Judge Trigg stated that his reason for refusing to do so, as he had formerly done in a similar case, was that as this case could not be carried to a higher court, and that the former one could, and was carried to the United States Supreme Court, where his decision could be settled beyond a questionable doubt.

Some cases were called on the Circuit law docket, but no counsel appearing, they were continued over until to-day.

Dr. Summers was excused from further attendance on the traverse jury.

The attention of the attorneys is called to the fact that the law docket of the United States Circuit Court will be taken up on regular call this morning.

CHANCERY COURT.—Wm. M. Smith, Chancellor.—Court convenes to-day at 10 o'clock. The argument in the Kaufman cases will be concluded, after which the demurrer calendar of Tuesday will be taken up, excluding the Nicholson Paving cases, which are continued over until Tuesday next. The Clerk and Master will take an account to-day in the case of Hamilton vs Treat et al.

CRIMINAL COURT.—J. E. Bigelow, Judge, etc.—The time of the court yesterday was occupied in empanneling a jury in the case of State of Tennessee vs. Henry Jones, charged with the murder of Capt. Perry, of the Police force, who was killed early last spring. This trial will probably last three or four days.

LAW COURT.—H. S. Lee, Judge.—The calendar published for yesterday was disposed of with the exception of one or two cases. The case of Wilkins, No. 1132 is on trial and will probably consume the forenoon of to-day, after which the following cases will be tried:

Some weeks since the friends of Gen. N. B. Forrest, and of the Memphis and Selma Railroad enterprise, determined to purchase and present to him a team of horses and a buggy, to assist him in getting through the country in canvassing and soliciting subscriptions for the railroad enterprise. The originators of the ides lost no time in carrying it out, and put the matter in the hands of Mr. J. G. THE WHITE FAWN, that brilliant spectacular drama, which, following close in the wake of the Black Crook, (seeming, indeed, an offspring of that marvelous scenic production) electrified and carried away the metropolises of the North and West last winter, was performed in Memphis last night for the first time. It is hardly necessary for us to say that it was a perfect success. The New Memphis was crowded from the dome to the orchestral chairs, with such an audience as it has seldom, if ever, held before. The play was put upon the boards in a manner that any city, far more pretentious than ours, might well be proud of. The main feature was the Whitman Ballet troupe, of course, with its marvelous danseuses, M'lles. Diani, Sanda, Zuardi and Barena, under the management of Marvig, whose name has become the synonym in this country of the perfect maitre de ballet. Of the play itself, and its plot, etc., it is almost impossible to speak. In fact there is no plot, and the play is a succession of scenic effects, which, for brilliancy and beauty, has no equal. All of the Memphis favorites were in the cast, and we are happy to say that our popular soubrette, Mrs. Cline, produced the hit of the evening, in the new medley especially arranged for her by Prof. Handwerker, from airs by Offenbach and Lingard, and winding up with Capt. Jenks, of the Horse Marines. She was three times most rapturously applauded, and with a good nature, only equalled by her talents and merits, each time she humored the audience, and repeated the medley. To enumerate further the beauties of the piece or to describe its bizarrerie, is impossible and we simply advise everybody to go and see for themselves. As in the lives of nations and individuals, fresh startling points are taken from great events, let us hope that the successes which have crowned the efforts of the management of the New Memphis during the past two weeks will be but the commencement of a new era of prosperity which shall be lasting.

NATIONAL HOTEL, LOUISVILLE.—The friends of Capt. John T. Shirley, prince of good fellows, and just the man to keep a hotel, will be glad to learn that he has so far been successful in his conduct of the National Hotel at Louisville, as that the business has increased fully fifty per cent. over all former experience. A correspondent at Louisville writes us of the following Tennesseeans who were guests at the National, enjoying the genuine, whole-souled hospitality of Capt. Shirley: "Gen. Bate, Jessee Page, Capt. Geo. Cheek, and Col. Thos. J. Finnie have just left the National, and your old friend Col. Hiram Tillman is now here and wishes to be remembered to you and Col. Galloway. We have also from Memphis Frank Vinson, Capt. Jno. Claycomb and Henry Hampton stopping with us." We hope that all Memphians sojourning or passing through Louisville will make it a point to patronize the National Hotel and enjoy the good things of this life with a gentleman who knows what they are and how they should be served.

FINANCE AND TRADE

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL, MEMPHIS, December 1, 1868.

FINANCE.

The buoyancy exhibited in the Cotton market has intimidated buyers and fewer cotton bills were offered at some of our banks to-day than usual, though others had liberal calls for currency. Rates are steady at ½ to ¾ discount on all points, embracing New Orleans, New York and the manufacturing towns of New England. Selling at par with exceptions at ¼ to $2 per $1000 discount.

The feeling concerning the new railroad project of Col. Tate & Co., does not seem to be favorable in money circles. When the new management of the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad were negotiating for that road, they professed their entire ability and willingness to meet the indebtedness of the road as it fell due. Wishing to lend all the aid possible to the road, holders of past due coupons in many cases declared their willingness to extend the time of payment of these coupons for seven years. All coupons falling due thereafter were, however, to be paid. To those who presented coupons due in November, they stated that those who were willing to extend the time of the past due coupons should have the preference, and to be paid first. Only a few days ago, November coupons, to the amount of a few hundren dollars, and belonging to a party who had agreed to the extension before alluded to, were returned unpaid. No office of the Company could be found in New York, where we believe they professes to have one. A search in Wilmington, Delaware, another head-quarters, was equally unsuccessful. It is therefore believed that the Company is not only unable, but are unwilling, to carry out the promises made before they became possessed of the road.

Gold opened in New York to-day at 135¼c. and was steady until the close, when it fell to 135c. New York Central opened at 129. Erie, 37½c. The tendency was downward on Central, which closed at 128¼c. and upward on Erie, closing at 38c.

In this market the offerings of gold and demand are very light. Dealers buy at 134@134¼c. and sell at 135¼@136.

Bonds of the City are firm with some inquiry at 51¾@52¾ but no sellers.

The demand for County Warrants, though much lighter than on yesterday, has not caused any decline. Buyers are in the market at 76@76c. on speculation, but brokers are not very anxious to buy at these figures, as they sell at 76@78c. as to amount.

City Scrip is quiet at 82@83c. buying. Selling at 84@85c.

Police Scrip has been firm. We believe, however, that the Commissioners resumed the issue of this money to-day and prices may decline. We quote at 90@92c. buying. Selling at 95@97c.

School Scrip is firm at 90c. buying. Selling at 95c.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued orders to Collectors of Internal Revenue in cities where there is located an Assistant Treasurer or United States designated depository under the act of August 6, 1864, directing them to discontinue their deposits with national banks on and after the 1st of December, and to deposit thereafter exclusively with the United States Assistant Treasurer, etc.

According to the report of Commissioner Welles, the sale of liquor by retail dealers in the United States for one year, amounted to $1,483,491,865. Of this sum, New York is credited with $346,617,620, Pennsylvania $151,683,495, Ohio $151,734,875, and Illinois $119,963,945. These figures afford a pretty good idea of the magnitude of this interest. All agree that if the tax assessed under the existing law was honestly paid into the national treasury, there would be little need of any other internal revenue.

Gen. Spinner, United States Treasurer, has written a reply to certain strictures upon a circular issued by him on the 13th of November, with a view to the withdrawal from circulation of the convertible issue of legal tender notes. The circular, he says, was not addressed to all the National banks, but only such of those institutions as have been designated depositaries of public moneys, which were directed to select from the United States legal tender notes which they might have on hand on receipt of the circular, and from those they might receive. As these institutions have been the constituted custodians of public funds, and are, in that capacity, under the control of the Department, it did not seem to him improper or unjust that they should be requested to assist the Treasurer in an effort to withdraw from circulation notes bearing a promise, the fulfilment of which is inhibited by act of Congress, and the mandates of which are imperatively binding upon him as an executive officer of the United States. Subsequently to the passage of the act of March 3, 1863, holders of the notes in question presented them to him for conversion into five-twenty bonds. His only duty was to return the notes to the owners, and to point to the positive enactment that after a certain day the right to exchange the notes for bonds should cease and determine. As his authority for declining to make the exchange, to save the department the embarrassment and inconvenience of these frequent explanations, it was recently determined that such of the convertible notes as should come into the custody of its depositaries should be returned to him and replaced by other notes not bearing the promise of conversion. The Department did not demand the surrender of any of these notes which were in private hands, or in the possession of other than the Government itself.

The Liverpool market was quiet at the opening to-day, with Uplands 11¼@11½d, Orleans, 11½@11¾. It was steady with prices unchanged at 1:20 p.m. Sales 15,000 bales. The shipments from Bombay since last report to 27th ult., was 12,000 bales.

There was less activity in the New York market at the opening, but prices were maintained. At noon it was quiet but steady, Uplands 25¼c. It was the same at 2:20 p.m. and at 4 p.m. the demand was moderate and prices firm, Low middlings, 24½c; Uplands, 25½c; Mobile, 25½c; Orleans, 25½c; Good Middlings, 26¼c.

The New Orleans market opened with a fair demand and prices firm. Middlings 23½@23¾c. and at 2:15 p.m. was unchanged. Sales 4000 bales.

Our market was quiet but firm. Buyers are either without orders or anticipate a decline, now that the speculator's orders for November delivery have been filled. One buyer in this market represented the seller of 10,000 bales, for delivery last month, which was filled at a loss of $10 to $15 per bale. Sales were light, and the stock on hand unsold is very small. Holders were asking 23½c. for Middlings, but sales were mostly on a basis of 23c. We quote as follows:

Good Ordinary	22 @22½
Low Middlings	22½@22¾
Middlings	23 @23½
Strict Middlings	23½@24

TRADE.

The general markets were dull to-day and prices are tending downward. The demand for meats is very light, owing to the fact that planters are using fresh meats to a large extent. Our merchants, however, have not ordered largely and are prepared for any fall in prices which may ensue. Sugars and Molasses are also weak but have not materially declined.

The culture of rice in Louisiana is beginning to attract the attention of Northern capitalists, and well it may, seeing that it has proved to be a most successful crop, and a most remunerative one. It is estimated that this year Louisiana will raise in the aggregate five thousand more tierces of rice than the Carolinas, and yet but few years ago the planting of it was confined to a few small planters down the coast, who sent it to market half cleaned. We understand that parties have recently purchased land on the Amite river for the purpose of going extensively into the culture of rice in St. Helena.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Weather clear and pleasant. The river here continues to decline slowly, with nine and a half feet in the channel out to Cairo. At St. Louis the river is falling, with seven feet out to Cairo. The Ohio is falling at Pittsburg, but rising slowly at Cincinnati and Louisville, with seven feet in the canal and eight and a half feet on the bars in the lower Ohio. The Arkansas is receding, with five feet in the channel from Little Rock, and White river is on a stand, with eight feet in the channel from Augusta down.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The St. Francis, for St. Francis river; Natoma, for Friar's Point; Myrtle, for Hale's Point; Dos Arc, for White river, and Mary Forsyth, for St. Louis, all got off with fair trips.

The Commonwealth passed up for St. Louis at noon.

The Indiana was overdue last night, bound for Louisville, and probably passed up in the night.

The Liberty No. 2 cleared last night for White river, with a good list of passengers, and loaded down to the guards with freight.

Capt. John Edson went out in charge of the Liberty. Capt. Edson is quite popular in White river. He is active, industrious, and a thorough steamboatman, and will prove quite an acquisition on this popular steamer.

The Thompson Dean passed down yesterday. She added 800 bales at this port.

Capt. D. DeHaven is still in the city. He leaves to-day.

Capt. John Adams' new freight boat, the Clarksville, will be one of the best carriers that ever went up the Arkansas. She will carry 2500 bales of cotton, and sail from the Arkansas river to New Orleans.

The Big Injin at the Masked Promenade on Monday night, it is said, was a well-known river man. "Lo!" was seen, about daylight, wending his way towards the St. Louis wharfboat.

Mr. Billy S. Moon, who has been rusticating at Greenville, Miss., for some time, returned home on the Magenta. His hunting experience, as reported, were not exceeded by those of Geoghegan and Pritchard.

The tug Nettie Jones, Capt. John Ford, left on Tuesday with a tow of three barges of coal for the mouth of White river, for the noted dealers in black diamonds, Messrs. Brown & Jones.

The Robert Burns passed down yesterday morning for New Orleans.

The superb passenger steamer, Mississippi, Capt. Nat. Green, leaves the wharf at five p.m., for New Orleans and the bends. She is the regular Wednesday packet, and will attend to all way business in the bends.

The Louisa, Capt. Ballis, leaves at 5 p.m. for Cairo and Cincinnati.

The Sam. J. Hale, Capt. Walker, leaves this evening at 5 o'clock for Cincinnati. Mr. Miller does the honors of the office.

The Stonewall is due from St. Louis, and the John Kilgour from Louisville.

The fine steamer W. A. Caldwell is the regular Thursday Arkansas river mail packet. She will be in port this evening, ready to receive.

The new Arkansas river mail packet, Thomas H. Allen, was to have left Cincinnati yesterday for Memphis.

The new steamer Arkansas is due from Cincinnati.

The Marble City is the regular Thursday St. Louis packet.

Capt. John Washington has been appointed assistant Inspector of boilers at this port. No better selection could be made than Capt. W., who is a practical engineer and stands at the head of his profession.

Lake Pepin is frozen over.

The United States dredge boat bearing the name of Ottavia was inspected by Maj. Long, and made a trial trip on Saturday, at Alton. The Ottavia is commanded by Maj Charles R. Suter, of the United States Engineer Corps, and is designed to assist in the improvement of Mississippi navigation.

The Milwaukee and City of St. Paul have been laid up at La Crosse.

None of the White Collar or Northern Line packets are wintering at Dubuque and are not likely to. What little repairing is to be done this winter has been given to other places.

Steamers ascending and descending the Ohio river are required to keep on the Kentucky side of the sunken steamer J. N. McCullough, as the channel on the Indiana side is obstructed by anchors and lines from the wreck to the Indiana shore. The wreck is gradually swinging to the Indiana side.

WHEATON NURSERY

A LARGE variety of Ornamental Trees, Shrubbery, Evergreens and the finest varieties of Fruit Trees; also, a full assortment of Hot House Plants and Flowers, and everything usually found in a first class Nursery, which I offer for sale at GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

The stock on hand having accumulated for the last few years, it becomes necessary, on account of a want of room, to dispose of the surplus, which I will offer at greatly reduced prices, and cheaper than any Nursery north or south of this point can possibly furnish them.

They are the selections of the late Dr. Wheaton, whose long experience is the best guarantee of their being not only what they are represented to be, but as being peculiarly adapted to the Southern climate—a market for which he devoted his especial attention.

In addition to the above, I have a very large stock of Magnolias, which I can offer at greatly reduced prices, and which will be carefully packed for transportation by an experienced gardener.
